On the 25th a ball was given at Marlborough House. On the 12th their Royal Highnesses were present at the opening of a new home for children at Kingston Hill, erected by the Metropolitan Convalescent Institution at a cost of £10,000. On the 19th they visited Margate and opened a branch of the London Asylum for the Deaf and Dumb. They were received by Earl Granville, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, and the corporate authorities, who presented an address of welcome. The town was gaily decorated. The reception was warm, and their Royal Highnesses were entertained at a banquet. In firing the salute of welcome an artillery volunteer was blown into the sea, and lost an arm by amputation.

The Corporation presented to him an address of welcome at the Guildhall, followed by a splendid déjeuner at the Mansion House. Dr. Badger made an admirable speech on the Sultan's behalf. On the 13th, the Sultan received two deputations at the Alexandra Hotel; the first consisted of a committee of the Bible Society, headed by the Earl of Shaftesbury, who presented an Arabic Bible magnificently bound, and copies of the New Testament. This was followed by a deputation from the Society of Arts, headed by Lord Alfred Churchill, who read an engrossed address on the promotion of commerce and civilization in the Sultan's dominions. On the 15th, the Sultan and suite left England via Folkestone for Paris, where they have been hospitably entertained. Before leaving London special letters of thanks were written, photographs were distributed, charitable gifts bestowed, and handsome swords presented to the Lord Mayor and several provincial mayors. PRICE HORN STOCK FOR THE COLONIES.—The following telegram was sent to us from Adelaide, extracted from an English paper received by the Nubia.—Mr. Dancer and Mr. Miller, of New South Wales, have just shipped about very valuable horn specimens to the Colonies, and some articles at high prices have been forwarded. Mr. Tanguer is now preparing for shipment an Arab of one of the best strains of Syria. He is of a light brown colour, and though only young, the stand he has made him in the service of Ronson, the servant girl coming in to clear the room, brushed out the torn paper, but her eyes was caught by the head line, "A white man dressed from savages and, seeing on the table, he turned to his god-father and said, "I am sorry to tell you that John Ronson is my long-lost cousin, who had been given up for dead by his family when he was quite a young boy." The girl's name is Margaret Ronson, and her father (the uncle of the last named boy) lives in Australia.

SAIL OF FAT STOCK.—Messrs. Sullivan and Simpson report having sold by auction, at the Hobemal Yards, 76 bullocks, on account of Mr. H. R. C. Bird, from his Wambamby station, a weight of 48 lbs. 2d.; also 2600 sheep, a weight of Mr. W. Forrest, from his Warrumbung station, at an average of £3 11s. 3d.

HOTEL CROWN.—The Corinthian and Club Club, to be run for a Handwick on Saturday next, are now on view at Flavelle Brothers, George-street. They are of pure silver and very tastefully designed.

THE MELBOURNE EXHIBITION.—Recent Victorian papers speak of the exhibition as having become established as a popular resort for both young and old, and it is made more complete from day to day, the expressions of satisfaction which are being the most common displayed. The number of visitors daily increases, and on the evening of the 12th instant, the visitors of the buildings were crowded, the visitors number 3291 adults and 443 children,—total, 3734. The attendance on Saturday was the largest that has yet been recorded, the number of visitors being 1619. In the evening the building was so crowded, that to move from one door to another was no trifling difficulty.

THE MELBOURNE HEALTH SOCIETY.—The promoters of the Australian Health Society have issued circulars calling for assistance and co-operation in the good work they have undertaken. The objects aimed at by the society are to create an interest throughout the colony with regard to sanitary matters in general, by the aid of the platform, the press, and other suitable means. To induce and assist people by personal influence, example, and opportunity to live in a healthy condition, and to promote health in mind and body.

THE MELBOURNE WATER SUPPLY.—The Commissioners of Public Works (says the Daily Telegraph) give great satisfaction that negotiations shall be entered into with the water company to extend the supply of water to the eastern suburbs in the shortest time. The scheme will consist of an improvement of regulations which may favour of harshness, but which are dictated by prudence and a proper regard for the health of the community. The first principle of the regulations will be to secure an adequate supply for domestic purposes, after which there will be a delivery stable, the watering of the streets, and the irrigation of the gardens of the city and suburbs. It is expected the additional main will be completed by December, after which there will be a supply of 100000000 gallons per day, and the enforcement of regulations which may favour of harshness, but which are dictated by prudence and a proper regard for the health of the community. The first principle of the regulations will be to secure an adequate supply for domestic purposes, after which there will be a delivery stable, the watering of the streets, and the irrigation of the gardens of the city and suburbs. The use of hydrants for the streets will not be permitted, and therefore the sooner the attention of the City Council is directed to this important matter, the better will be the result. A little more attention to the removal of the accumulations of dust with which the streets are covered during the summer months would also be an advantage, and the Public Works Department is fully alive to this, and is anxious to inaugurate a little more cleanliness in this respect, in order to prevent any unnecessary waste of the water gratuitously supplied for watering the streets.

ANOTHER ATTEMPT TO UPSET A TRAIN.—The Orion and Murray Advertiser reports that some dastardly villain again placed obstructions on the first section of the line between Melbourne and Ballarat, between Traralgon and Evertton, and but for their being discovered in time, a serious accident would have occurred. On the evening of a train a man, McPhail, who resides in a gatehouse not far from the station, was seen at an unoccupied station, and on returning home went along the line. When about 25 chains from Evertton, at the foot of a steep hill, which rises to a gradient of about 1 to 30 to the present terminus, he came upon four large saplings laid across the line. The man, who was a member of the late similar attempt, it tends to create the feeling of unrest in the public mind to know that their lives are not safe in travelling. What motives can influence a man in being party to such an attempt? The punishment for such an offence could be too great for him. Yet another Chinaman named Ah Pong was arrested on the charge, and conveyed to Wangaratta, but it is generally believed that he had nothing to do with it.

A BIT FROM A BLACK SPIDER.—We learn from the Singleton Argus of the 15th that on Monday afternoon a gentleman, the son of Mr. Thomas, of Veale, in the Bay of Spain, for medical reasons. He was suffering from a sore, he supposed a spider in his knee, and stated that on the previous night he had endured great pain. The doctor examined it, and found it much swollen and inflamed, and pronounced it to be the poisonous effects of a spider bite. The man was sent to the hospital, and promptly applied antiseptics and remedies to the affected part, and yesterday it was progressing favourably. Families will do well to examine the curtains and tapers of their beds now; these venomous black spiders have made their appearance.

BROWNS AT SEA.—The Argus reports a vessel carrying a load of timber which occurred during the voyage of the steamer Albertina, from New Zealand to Melbourne. It appears that at 10 minutes to 6 p.m. on the 8th instant the lamp-trimmer, Ole Olson, a Norwegian, while skipping the starboard side light, slipped, and over the deck, and the ship was blowing strong from N.E. W., with a high wind, and the vessel was going at 12-knot speed under sail and steam. At the cry of "Man overboard," Captain Underwood instantly despatched a look-out to such masthead, and had the signal hoisted for the boat, which had fallen into the water. A boat was manned and lowered at considerable risk, owing to the weather, but after an unsuccessful search for the missing man, it had to return to the steamer. The boat had sprung a leak, and all hope of finding the man was gone at the time when the vessel was going at 12-knot speed under sail and steam.
